

ANOTHER TERM
FOR ROOSEVELT?

People May Ignore the President's Disinclination to Run.

ALL PARTIES ARE CLAIMING HIM

Colonel Sterrett, An Uncompromising Democrat, Says That Roosevelt Would Carry Every County in Texas Against Mr. Davis.

(From Our Regular Correspondent.)

WASHINGTON, D. C., November 5.—There is but one presidential possibility for 1908. His name goes without saying. Theodore Roosevelt so completely overshadows every other personality in his own or any other party that there is no other name to be mentioned in comparison. Without any argument as to the basis for the popularity of Mr. Roosevelt, and the validity of the reasons for the wonderful change in sentiment towards him that has swept over the country in the past five years, no less marked in the North and West than in the Democratic South, it is perfectly safe to say that no man who has loomed into public notice since the war between the States has been such a popular idol. Nor is it an exaggeration to say that there are indications now that there will be a scramble between the Democrats and Republicans to see who can nominate President Roosevelt first.

Doesn't Turn His Head.

It does not go too far to say that the President himself has thought of the possibility of receiving the Democratic endorsement for the presidency in 1908. He has gone so far as to intimate to close friends that such a thing, though entirely unprecedented in the history of American politics, is a possibility. This was before his trip into the Southern States, a more extensive one than any ever taken by a President of the United States. If he thought that it was possible that the Democrats would carry four States, what must he think now, after he has received at the hands of Southern people such a welcome as has never accorded any citizen of the United States in the history of the country, not even excepting the ex-slaves? General Washington, used to receive when he traveled through the country, or those extended war heroes after the achievement of victories on land or sea. The head of a greater man than Theodore Roosevelt might well be turned by the adulation of such multitudes.

Demand Irresistible

But President Roosevelt has said he would not be a candidate for re-election, that he would not seek a second nomination and would not accept it if offered. There is no disposition in his declaration to question this subject. He may very easily escape the odium of violating the first clause of his pledge by making his nomination a necessity, by making his administration of such a character that the popular demand for his return would make another term an absolute necessity. He would not be a candidate for the re-election, he would only be the recipient without effort to capture the prize so eagerly coveted by lesser men in his party.

President Roosevelt is surrounded by some able men. Mr. Root is regarded as the last American lawyer, the head of the American bar. I heard a man of distinction say recently that he would hold his own with Root in the argument of a purely legal question in the Supreme Court of the United States. Secretary of the Interior, Mr. Clegg, is a lawyer and statesman almost the equal of Root. In the past, Mr. Clegg has been regarded as a Presidential timber, but they are absolutely dwarfs in the presence of the President. The man who is the object of the admiration of men of the calibre of Fairbanks and Shaw becomes ridiculous with Roosevelt on the stage.

Unprecedented Popularity.

If the eye of a reader, skeptical concerning the probability of the re-election of President Roosevelt, should fall on these lines, let him pause and consider. Who is there to succeed him who comes anywhere near being a popular idol? It is the man who is now in the White House, he of whom history may speak as the peace-maker of the world, the man who speaks as the man with the "Big Stick," contradictory terms, yet meaning the same thing in the mind of the President. The object of the trip of the President into the Southern States was said to be to obtain the support of the Southern congressmen and senators for the Panama Canal, the regulation of railway rates and the revision of the tariff. It was strange that the President should have accepted this explanation so readily. The man who believes that a campaign of education is necessary to convert the people of the South to the cause of reform, or to governmental control of railway rates, demonstrates himself to be unfamiliar with the attitude of the Southern States towards the Panama Canal enterprise, the project is more popular at the South than in any other section of the Union.

Strong Words From Texas.

It looks like the real object of the President's Southern tour was to find out how popular he was with the voters south of the Potomac and Ohio. This is the belief of those acquainted with what is going on in the political world, and most familiar with the motives of the man who plays the game of politics. He found out, Colonel "Bill" Sterrett, the well known Texas newspaper man, to whom Alfred Henry Lewis, is indebted for the greatest portion of the stories of the White House, said after the President visited the Lone Star State, that if Jeff Davis were living and asked to run against Roosevelt for the presidency, Roosevelt would carry every county in Texas. And Colonel Sterrett upon his Democracy. How about the President's Democracy? He and Mr. Bryan have to have common articles of political faith in common. The most striking features of the President's confession of faith were professed by Mr. Bryan long before they were uttered.

(Continued on Second Page.)

MONROE BUTLER
KILLED BY BROWN

A Distressing Tragedy Near Suffolk, Resulting from Drink.

BROWN IS HELD FOR GRAND JURY

Large Crowd Attends the Hearing—A Horsetrader Has His Throat Cut From Ear to Ear By a Negro.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)

SUFFOLK, VA., Nov. 5.—Mr. Monroe Butler was yesterday afternoon shot and instantly killed by C. C. Brown at Brown's house, near Ludika, about ten miles from here. Both men were drinking, when an argument started, which resulted in the homicide. Brown is a lumberman of Isle of Wight county, and Butler, whose parents reside in Suffolk, worked for him. Brown was immediately put under arrest, and is now in jail. Both parties were white. The murdered man was single.

Brown Held for Grand Jury.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.) WINDSOR, VA., Nov. 5.—Justice F. D. Joyner held an inquest at 10 o'clock this morning over the body of Monroe Butler, whom Charlie Brown shot yesterday and instantly killed. About three hundred people were present at the inquest. Mr. Brown was brought from the jail to attend the inquest, and was represented by Messrs. W. S. Holland and Parke P. Deans, of this place. After the evidence of several witnesses was heard, the jury rendered the following verdict: "That Monroe Butler came to his death from a gun-shot wound inflicted by a gun in the hands of Charlie Brown."

Killed By a Negro.

SUFFOLK, VA., Nov. 5.—Mr. W. G. King, a well-known horse trader of North Carolina, met a horrible death last night at the hands of Garfield Hicks, colored. King was returning from Littleton, N. C., to Vaughan, his home, a distance of four miles. The two men were in separate vehicles, had some words over passing each other and the negro, who was partly intoxicated, jumped from the cart and cut the throat of Mr. King from ear to ear. He lived three minutes. The murder was witnessed by John Barnes, who was on horseback. The negro made his escape. A large mob is in pursuit, and if the negro is caught, he will more than likely be lynched. Bloodhounds are on the trail, followed by scores of people.

Stabbed Negro in Heart.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.) ROANOKE, VA., November 5.—Samuel H. Simmons, a white man from Franklin county, who has been engaged on the power plant near the city, killed Price Williams, colored, at a colored disorderly house on Earnest Avenue this afternoon. Simmons, who had been staying at a house of a white woman on the street, went into the house of Mabel McDonald, colored. Williams, who was there, told him he was in the wrong house. The men walked into the yard quarreling, when Simmons drew a knife and stabbed the negro in the heart. The negro staggered across the street and dropped dead in the yard of his home. Simmons was arrested.

DOMESTIC TROUBLE CAUSED KILLING

(By Associated Press.) SAN ANTONIO, TEX., Nov. 5.—A special to the Daily Express from Brady, Texas, says: Menace details for a brutal killing at Hexton, Menard county, reached here to-day. A man named C. Livingston was shot and killed with a knife and then the body was burned. The telephone message states that Enis Stark, a merchant of Hexton, has been arrested by the officers of Menard and has given bond. Domestic troubles are said to have caused the tragedy.

INFORMAL AFFAIRS FOR ADMIRAL PRINCE

Assistant Secretary of War Gives Luncheon, and British Ambassador a Dinner.

(By Associated Press.)

WASHINGTON, D. C., November 5.—Rear Admiral Prince Louis of Battenberg was to-day the guest of honor at a luncheon given by Assistant Secretary Oliver, of the War Department, and Mrs. Oliver, and to-night was entertained at a dinner given by Walter Beaupre Townley, the counselor of the British embassy, and Lady Townley. Both these affairs were informal. The remainder of the time was spent mostly at the embassy. During the afternoon, however, Prince Louis made several calls, among others at the home of Mrs. John P. Jackson, the relative of an officer of the American navy. The Prince received a number of callers. At the luncheon given by the Olivers, at which Joseph H. Choate, former ambassador to Great Britain, also was a guest of honor, the guests included the British ambassador and Lady Durand, the French ambassador and Madame Jusserand, Associate Justice Holmes, of the Supreme Court of the United States, and Mrs. Holmes, Attorney-General Moody, Mrs. Taft, the wife of the Secretary of War, Mrs. John Davis, and Miss Boardman, of the navy.

THREE PERSONS ARE KILLED IN MOUNTAIN ROAD ACCIDENT

Mr. John Vaughan, a Prominent Bedford County Farmer, His Wife and Their Niece Thrown From Buggy Against Stone Wall and to the Horrible Tragedy.

Meet Almost Instant Death—No Eye-Witnesses

Special Over Long Distance Phone.

BEDFORD CITY, VA., November 5.—Mr. John Vaughan, a prominent Bedford county farmer, his wife and their twelve-year-old niece, met horrible and almost instant deaths to-day in a runaway on the mountain road leading to the Peaks of Otter.

Mrs. Vaughan and the girl appear to have been instantly killed, while Mr. Vaughan, with his head and body horribly mangled, died soon after being found, and without speaking a word.

Remarkable as it may seem, neither the horse, harness nor buggy was injured in the slightest. The buggy cushion, but slightly damaged, was found on the opposite side of the road from which the three bodies lay.

HURLED AGAINST THE ROCKS.

The accident was one of the most tragic ones ever known in this section. It occurred on the road leading to the famous Peaks, about eight miles from this city, and at a point where the road is very smooth for mountain country.

There were no eye-witnesses to the mishap, which ushered three souls into eternity. Mr. E. P. Stone made the horrifying discovery of the bodies by the roadside. He first met the runaway horse, but had no idea of the tragedy to be unfolded. He tied the horse and had not gone far when he came upon the bodies. Mr. Vaughan was in the throes of death, and Mrs. Vaughan and the little girl had breathed their last, though their bodies were not yet cold.

Mr. Stone, with his family, had started for a drive to the Peaks of Otter. He went in great haste for a physician, and several were secured, but Mr. Vaughan in the meantime had breathed his last.

WERE GOING TO CHURCH.

The details of the accident are rather meagre, as there were no eye-witnesses. Mr. Vaughan and his wife and niece were on their way to attend preaching at Salem Methodist Church. It is supposed that their horse took fright and ran one side of the buggy either up on a big boulder or on the stone wall along the road, near where the tragedy occurred.

All three of the occupants of the buggy must have been thrown out at the same time, as the bodies lay close together. All were bruised, showing contact with the boulder or wall but only Mr. Vaughan was at all mutilated.

Mr. and Mrs. Vaughan were about sixty years old. They were most excellent people, and were held in high esteem. The three bodies were taken to their home, whence there will be a very sad triple funeral to-morrow or next day.

DEMOCRATS ARE IN GOOD SHAPE

Montague and McCarthy Do Fine Work on the South-side

WHIRLWIND FINISH TO-DAY

Keyville Deacon Prays for Success of Democratic Party and Praises Mayor's Speech.

On the eve of Tuesday's battle the Democratic managers are confident of victory, their prospects having pulled up considerably as a result of Saturday's meetings held here and there throughout the State. The writer returned last night from Charlotte and Halifax counties and found conditions in both quite favorable to the Democrats, whereas a few days ago they were of a rather panicky nature.

Governor Montague's powerful appeal to the people at Houston on Saturday has tended to straighten out matters in Halifax, and the very able and unique effort of Mayor McCarthy at Keyville is said to have had a splendid effect on the situation in Charlotte.

Again, the Halifax meeting had another feature highly worthy of further mention. Senator William P. Barksdale, who has rarely agreed with Governor Montague upon the policies of their party, arose at the end of the Governor's splendid address and with uplifted hands and a manner indicating that he was in earnest, delivered a fervid and terribly in earnest, devoted almost entirely to praise of the Governor's administration, and to encomiums upon the Executive's personal and official life.

Very Happy Climax.

This was a happy climax to one of the greatest Democratic meetings held in the South in many years, and the Governor and the Senator, sharply

(Continued on Third Page.)

TENDERLOIN GIRL
KILLED BY LOVER

Police Theory Indicates That the Man Was More Depraved Than His Victim.

(By Associated Press.)

NEW YORK, Nov. 5.—With her skull crushed by a blow with an iron bar, the still warm body of Gussie Leicher, a frequent visitor of "Tenderloin" resorts, was found to-day in the room in which she lived in West Twenty-sixth Street. The police believe that she was killed by a man with whom she lived in a quarrel caused by her refusal to account to him for all her earnings. A woman living in the house heard quarreling, followed by a heavy fall, and saw a tall, well-dressed man dart out of the Leicher woman's room and run down stairs. Beside the body was a heavy piece of bar iron, wrapped in a newspaper and stained with blood. The police were examining the room, a girl known as Lottie Williams and a man named Lecher entered, and said that they had come to inquire whether the girl was badly hurt. Both were arrested on suspicion.

Richmonders in New York.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.) NEW YORK, November 5.—Ashland O. L. Lander, Continental L. E. Mills, Murray Hill, C. C. Russell and wife.

Sunday's Times-Dispatch
PUBLISHED

2,252 inches of paid advertisements.
107 columns of paid advertisements.
617 paid advertisements, including—
49 ads. for male help.
21 ads. for female help.
13 ads. for collectors and salesmen.
13 ads. for agents.
301 other miscellaneous want advertisements.

DURING THE MONTH OF OCTOBER

The Times-Dispatch

published the following schedule of paid advertisements:
22,110 inches of paid advertisements.
2,178 inches increase over Oct., 1904.
Divide 22,110 by 3 (the number of days in October) shows—
737 inches as daily average for paid advertisements published in The Times-Dispatch during the month of October, 1905.

This is the largest daily average of any advertising medium published in Virginia, and emphasizes the fact that Northerners recognize the importance of Virginia's representative daily as an advertising medium. Don't overlook the motto: First before the public—longest before the public.

The Times-Dispatch is daily increasing its effectiveness. Its aim is to give its readers and its advertising patrons, not only the best newspaper in Virginia, but one that will compare favorably with any in the country.

THE WEATHER.

Forecast: Virginia—Rain Monday; Tuesday, fair and colder; fresh south winds, shifting to west.
North Carolina—Rain Monday; Tuesday, fair and in east portions Tuesday; cooler Tuesday; light to fresh southeast to south winds.
Georgia—Rain Monday; cooler in north-west portions; Tuesday, rain; cooler in east and south portions; fresh south winds.
Eastern Florida—Fair Monday, except rain in northwest portion; Tuesday, rain and cooler; fresh east to south winds.
Western Florida and Alabama—Rain Monday; cooler at night; Tuesday, fair, cooler; fresh south, shifting to north-west winds.
Mississippi and Louisiana—Rain and cooler Monday; Tuesday, fair; fresh northwest winds.
Texas—Rain and cooler Monday; Tuesday, fair, except rain in west and south portions; fresh northwest, shifting to northeast winds.
Tennessee—Rain and cooler Monday; Tuesday, fair; cooler in east portions.

Miniature Almanac.

November 5, 1905.
Sun rises: 6:41
Sun sets: 5:07
Moon sets: 1:29
Moon sets: 1:29
Moon sets: 1:29

Conditions in Important Cities.

(At 8 P. M., Eastern Time.)
Place. High. Low. Weather.
Atlanta, N. C. 62 55 Clear
Baltimore, N. Y. 62 55 Rain
Charlotte, N. C. 62 55 Cloudy
Chicago, Ill. 62 55 Cloudy
Cincinnati, O. 62 55 Rain
Cleveland, O. 62 55 Rain
Detroit, Mich. 62 55 Rain
Indianapolis, Ind. 62 55 Rain
Jacksonville, Fla. 62 55 Clear
Key West, Fla. 62 55 Clear
New Orleans, La. 62 55 Cloudy
Norfolk, Va. 62 55 Rain
Philadelphia, Pa. 62 55 Rain
Savannah, Ga. 62 55 Cloudy
St. Louis, Mo. 62 55 Clear
Trenton, N. J. 62 55 Clear

Thermometer This Day Last Year

9 A. M. 62 6 P. M. 69
12 M. 72 9 P. M. 65
8 P. M. 75 12 M. 62
(Average) 65 1-6.

THRE CARBOLIC ACID ON

THE LEADING LADY'S GOWNS

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)

SUFFOLK, VA., November 5.—A "Thoroughbred Tramp" played at the Opera House last night. Two members of the company were discharged, and for revenge threw carbolic acid on the clothes of the leading lady, ruining about $100 worth. Warrents were gotten out against them, and they attached the effects of the show. The show was held over until to-morrow. When the case was heard by Magistrate Holliday, several attorneys are in the case.

ARMED BANDITS
DEFY KENTUCKY

Frank Ball and Forty Men Successfully Resist Company of State Militia.

ANOTHER COMPANY TO GO

Leader Who is Wanted for Murder Censures News Sent Out By Telegraph.

(By Associated Press.)

KNOXVILLE, TENN., Nov. 5.—A special to the Journal and Tribune from Middleboro, Ky., tells of a reign of terror in the border line city that threatens to rival in violence the bloody feuds of Breathitt county. The Middleboro militia company spent Sunday afternoon in the mountains after a lawless gang, said to be headed by Frank Ball, wanted for the murder of John Bolen, a barber. Ball is reported to have with him a crowd of at least forty men, who intend to resist his arrest to the last.

Four miles from Middleboro the soldiers to-day attacked a blind tiger and riddled it with steel bullets, although they succeeded in capturing none of the men. Returning to town, a roll-call of the company showed the absence of three men, whose whereabouts are not known.

To-night the town is comparatively quiet, but all telegraph wires have been cut, and the only news that can get out of here is by telephone. Governor Beckham has been asked to send more soldiers, and another company is expected to-morrow, as the local militia-men are worn out by constant duty of the past three days.

The Middleboro company is in charge of Captain George W. Albright, a leading citizen, who, up to September 1st, was editor of the Middleboro News. Society is preserved by both citizens and soldiers, and it is reliably reported that the Western Union operator has been warned not to send out news of the disturbance to any papers.

KITCHEN SOIREE ARE TO END AT 3 A. M.

Mountclair Housekeepers Will

Make Other Stringent Rules to Govern Their Maids

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)

NEW YORK, November 5.—Mrs. Frederick B. Carter, wife of the rector of St. Luke's Episcopal Church, Mountclair, N. J., is forming a defensive alliance of housekeepers there against all cooks, maids and laundresses. Mrs. Carter and her allies in the battle for domestic reform and the bettering of the domestic help meet Monday. The rules are few, but of immense importance in rural and romantic Mountclair. A preliminary draft runs about like this:
1. No cook shall talk to the milkman while the breakfast steak is on the fire.
2. A laundress shall not have more than three brothers and four cousins.
3. If waiter girls supply their sick grandmothers with brandy, they must not dilute what remains in the master's decanter.
4. The lady of the house to have free admission to the kitchen.
5. Not more than half the contents of the refrigerator shall be given to the policeman for supper.
6. On moonlight nights, promenades are to be held in the park at 11:30 P. M.
7. Last it lead to matrimonial complications, a maid is forbidden to wear her mistress's clothes and hats.
8. Carriage to be called to collecters below stairs at 3 A. M.

HORSES, HOUNDS
AND RIDERS REST

Fox Hunters Celebrate Birth of Master of Hounds.

LARGE PARTY IS EXPECTED TO-DAY

Many Ladies in the Number, Among Whom is Mrs. Tom Pearce, Who Rides With Much Dash, Either Side-Saddle or Astride.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)

UPPERVILLE, VA., November 5.—Sunday proved a much needed day of rest for horses, hounds and riders in the Grifton-Middlesex hounds trials, and the holiday was spent in celebrating the birthday of Mr. Harry W. Smith, master of the Grifton pack, which fell most opportunely. The hunting colonies journeyed from Middleburg and from Upperville to Oakley to spend the day and talk over the events of the past week and the hunting yet to come.

To-morrow, when the Middlesex hounds will go out for the third time, the meet will be at Middleburg, on the pike, at 7 o'clock, and the field, it is thought, will be larger than at any time during the meet on account of the advent of the cross-country contingents from Warren and from Clarke county, the home of the Blue Ridge Hunt. Mr. Harry W. Smith, who will arrive to-night with his string of hunters and a party of friends, Mrs. Henderson, who went so brilliantly early in the week, will again be in evidence, and from Warren will come Mr. and Mrs. Porter, Mr. and Mrs. James K. Maddux, Mr. and Mrs. Labouisse and Mr. Charles U. Benner.

Women's Fine Mounts.

Mrs. Maddux will bring with her two famous cross-country horses, Gray Cap and Searchlight, and Mrs. Porter will ride The Dragon and The Lark. Among the hard riding horsewomen who are already here are Mrs. Lauderberg, of Middleburg Hunt, New York; Miss Terry Dulany, of Grifton Hunt; Mrs. Tom Pearce, of Boston; Miss Lemon, of Welbourne, and Mrs. Abbott, of Boston. All of these go hard and straight and all are excellent mounted. Mrs. Pearce, who rides equally well side-saddle or astride, not only goes with more dash than any woman who has so far ridden in these trials. Her horses, Nasaquag, Bruce and John Peel, have all carried her brilliantly, and on yesterday she added another well known hunter to her stable by the purchase of Champion, winner of the Duke's cup and many other steeplechase events. Miss Terry Dulany has in her big bay, Welbourne Bachelor, one of the finest going horses in America, for not only does she thoroughly know the country, but there is nothing to jump too big or difficult to stop him.

Have Crack Hunters.

The Middleburg county, stationed at Middleburg, all turn out daily in pink, and Dr. McEachran, one of the judges stationed there, also rides in the same hunting color. The party is made up of Mr. A. Henry Higginson, M. P. H., with his English hunting establishment, composed of R. Cotesworth, huntsman; Ned Cotesworth, first whip, and Will Edwards, second whip, a host of trainers and stablemen, and Mr. and Mrs. Grifton Abbott, Mrs. Tom Pearce, Mr. L. D. Ahl, Mr. Julien Chamberlain and Mr. Richard Barrett, all of Boston. At Upperville, known as "the Market Harbor of America," at the quaint old Piedmont Inn, are quartered Mr. and Mrs. James K. Maddux, Mrs. Lauderberg, of New York; Mrs. Henderson, Mr. and Mrs. Portman, Mr. Parke, of New York, and Mr. Oakley, of New York, each with a string of crack hunters.

At Oakley, the headquarters of the Grifton Hunt, are quartered Mr. and Mrs. Westmoreland Davis, with six hunters that are hard to beat. Mr. Harry W. Smith, M. P. H.; Mr. Hallam L. Mowbray, of Buffalo, one of the judges; Mr. Allen Potts, clerk of the match; Mr. Mabon G. Richardson, of Boston; Mr. Paul Whiting, of Whitewater, Mass., together with the Grifton Hunt establishment.

(Continued on Second Page.)

SELECT LOCATIONS
FOR PANAMA FORTS

Secretary Taft's Party Encountered Many Engineering Obstacles at Colon.

(By Associated Press.)

PANAMA, Nov. 5.—Secretary Taft, accompanied by Colonel Edwards, chief of the Bureau of Insular Affairs, Lieutenant-Colonel William B. Black and Lieutenant Mark Brooke, last Friday examined the location for the fortifications at the Pacific terminal of the canal. The Associated Press is informed that the small foot-hill at Ancon is at the point selected. Regarding the fortifications of an island in Panama Bay to protect the canal entrance, it was decided to do nothing until the canal is finished. The engineers left here Saturday afternoon for Colon, where the location for forts presents more difficulties than at Panama. These will probably be erected on Two Point, where some Americans own a coconut plantation. The celebrations here came to an end to-night with a grand reception given by President Amador in honor of Secretary Taft. All the prominent residents of Panama, together with the zone officials and members of the diplomatic and consular corps, were present. Secretary Taft will leave to-morrow for Colon, where the American colony will give a ball in his honor.

ANGRY WORDS OF
CZAR AND DUKE

Autocrat Says That He Doesn't Recognize Cyril's Marriage.

"GRAND DUTCHESS NOT YOUR WIFE"

Emperor Challenges Validity of Grand Duke's Marriage and Latter Replied With Heat, Which is Followed by Scene.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)

ST. PETERSBURG, Nov. 5.—The Grand Duke Cyril, who has been deprived of his military rank and expelled from Russia, had a stormy interview with his cousin, the Czar. When the Czar learned that the Grand Duke had secretly married the Grand Duchess Melita, the divorced wife of his Majesty's brother-in-law, the Grand Duke of Hesse, he summoned him to St. Petersburg for an explanation.

The Grand Duke obeyed the summons, and admitted that a marriage had taken place. On hearing this, the Czar reproached him for having disregarded his wishes in the matter, and said it was impossible for him to recognize the validity of the marriage. He concluded with the words, "The Grand Duchess Melita is not your wife at all."

The Grand Duke Cyril replied with heat, and there was a stormy scene. He took the next train back to Germany, and the following day the Czar's proclamation announcing his expulsion was published. The Grand Duke arrived in Berlin early yesterday morning, and was met at the station by the Grand Duchess Melita. They proceeded together to Coburg, where the Grand Duke intends to purchase an estate.

Won't Wait for Treppoff.

(By Associated Press.)

ST. PETERSBURG, November 5.—Sunday happily passed in St. Petersburg without disorders or bloodshed. The Social Democrats and revolutionists had planned a big demonstration in connection with the funerals of those killed in last week's riots, and it was intended to form gigantic processions representing the various industrial organizations in the suburbs, and, flying red flags, bear the bodies of the "martyrs" in state through the city for which they were not prepared at present. The people will give battle when ready, not when Treppoff wants it.

Accordingly the funerals were held in private, and workmen attended memorial services at the various mills. Although the demonstration was formally abandoned, tens of thousands of spectators flocked to the Nevsky Prospect.

The revolutionary leaders here anticipate a period of comparative quiet, and speak of the great strike simply as a "maneuver," which forced autocracy to make concessions.

Quiet in Odessa

(By Associated Press.)

ODESSA, Nov. 5.—A tour of the city and part of the suburbs to-day found all quiet. Whole rows of shops that were pillaged have been shown that were pillaged have been boarded up. The poorer Jewish quarters suffered worst, and the principal streets, with few exceptions, were untouched. Russian shops are marked with crosses painted on the shutters and the private houses with ikons, so as to protect them from the mobs.

Peasants armed with knives and scythes tried to enter the city Saturday and loot the place, but they were driven back by the soldiers.

The casualties of Saturday's disturbances exceeded 140, and those of the preceding three days, which have been verified, number nearly 500.

The plundering continued early this morning in the outlying districts, but to-day the city was relatively calm, though the population is still anxious. The latest accounts of the devastation in the Jewish quarters added horror to the situation.

MOB'S METHODS
BEYOND BELIEF

Petroleum Poured Over Sick and Burned to Death—Many Bodies Disemboweled.

(By Associated Press.)

ODESSA, Nov. 5.—Besides numerous suffocated, all the bakeries, shops and nearly 600 homes have been destroyed. The Jews killed in every circumstance were treated with revolting barbarity. Heads were battered with hammers, nails were driven into the bodies, eyes were put out and ears severed. Many bodies were disemboweled, and in some cases, the blood was poured over the sick found hiding in cellars, and those of the police and soldiers everywhere marched at the head of mobs, inciting them to destroy the Jews by crying, "The Jews have killed our emperor!" and similar expressions. While mobs were engaged in the slaughter the soldiers busied themselves pillaging the cash and jewels, leaving